5 Top reasons to replace your garage roof

1. Leaky damaged roof – The top reason, there are many garages 60,70 and 80 years old still out there and when the roof starts leaking that's when they spring into action.
2. Dangerous material – A lot of garages were built with asbestos cement panels or concrete panels with asbestos cement roofs. Asbestos causes cancer and it's the first thing a surveyor will pick up on when selling a property.
3. Change of use – garages are becoming more of an add on room to the home with people using it as entertainment areas, home gyms, play areas.
4. Past its best - neglected garages make for an ugly view with rotting fascia boards and damaged/non-existent gutters and do nothing for your view of the garden or kerb appeal.
5. A roof better than your neighbour's – A lot of people go down this route replacing the roof because it looks better than their neighbours.
